A GOOD THING.

Jailer Johnson's Scheme Deserves Pushing Along.

Jailer Johnson has thought of a novel scheme to prevent a mob from getting into the jail and at the same time not having to kill anyone.

It is to place a fireplug inside the jail in the corridor that surrounds the cells, attach a line of hose to it, let the nozzle man secure himself from harm by getting behind the Z door, turn the water on and wash the crowd of toughs out of the door and away from the jail.

This scheme would not cost very much, and the proper officials should give it attention.

By it there would be no necessity of taking anyone's life, and at the same time successfully guard the prisoners and jail.

KENTUCKY NEWS.

THE LEGISLATURE.

A Bill to Pay Bounty on the Sculpin of Wild Beasts Found in Kentucky.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 22.—The house added several new bills to its calendar Friday morning only a few of which were especially important. One of these, by Mr. Gosson, of Warren, makes it a misdemeanor for a minor to induce the sale of liquor to him by making a false statement. Retort of Pike introduced a bill authorizing the payment of a premium out of the state treasury for the scalp of wolves, wild cats and foxes. Mr. Filphen of Monroe, proposed to cut the salaries of circuit judges $2,500 and the judges of the court of appeals to $1,000. Several amendments to school laws came in, along with the rest.

The house defeated the substitute for the bill to abolish the state board of equalization and passed the original bill by a decisive vote. In the senate the bill requiring the state inspector to examine sales of leaf tobacco by warehousemen was passed. Senator Bennett precipitated a parliamentary fight by moving to take up out of its regular order a bill relating to railroads. Senator Goodell objected to this, intimating that this course had been followed as long as it should be, and that it had resulted in keeping back his Southern Pacific charter repeal bill.

SPOTTED FEVER

Causing Many Deaths in Sections of a Kentucky County.

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., Feb. 22.—Spotted fever broke out in Edmonson county about ten days ago, and since then 23 or 30 deaths have been reported, with many new cases. The state board of health, assisted by the local county board, is doing all in its power to relieve the unfortunate victims and to prevent the dreaded disease from spreading.

A report was received here Friday, and has been ably substantiated, that the disease had broken out in two more sections of the county, and at a lumber settlement there were 25 new cases and eight deaths.

The county judge, as well as nearly every man, woman and child of Edmonson, who have been fortunate enough to escape the disease so far, are using every means possible to check the fever. The physicians think they will have it fully under control in the next few days.

Kentucky Families Going to Illinois.

RICHMOND, Ky., Feb. 22.—Many Madison county farmers are leaving the place of their birth for central Illinois, where they go to engage in agriculture and establish new homes. A party of 20 left Friday morning, going to McLean county. It is estimated that not fewer than 100 men and boys have left Richmond for different points in Illinois within the last 60 days. Hard times and scarcity of work are the cause.

Hanged Himself in His Barn.

COVINGTON, Ky., Feb. 22.—Word was received at police headquarters Friday morning that Thomas Hawkins, a farmer residing near Independence, Ky., committed suicide at his home by hanging. The discovery was made by the children of Hawkins, who went to the barn to hunt eggs. They found their father hanging. He had tied a halter around his neck, and after fastening it to a rafter, swung off.

Berea College to Be Enrolled.

RICHMOND, Ky., Feb. 22.—Joseph H. Stiekney, a Baltimore millionaire, died in 1893 and bequeathed most of his fortune to colleges and institutions. Relatives endeavored to break the will, but they were recently defeated. The money will go as was originally intended. Berea college, in this county, is among the institutions to be remembered. $6,000 having been donated by the dead millionaire.

He admitted having in his possession when arrested one stolen from Frank Rives, a lawyer.

Leading Lawyer Dead.

AUGUSTA, Ky., Feb. 22.—Hon. Robert K. Smith, one of the leading lawyers of this section of the state, died Friday at Brookville, this county, of apoplexy.

No Record of It.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Feb. 22.—It is denied here that George H. Jackson buried his wife in Lexington last July. The records do not show it.

The Venezuela Commission.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—The Venezuelan commission held no formal meeting Friday on account of the absence from the city of Mr. Couderc and Prof. Gilman, but Justice Brewer and Alvey and Dr. White were in consultation at the commissioners' office with the geographical expert, and as on other days of the past two weeks were engaged in studying the papers bearing on the controversy which have accumulated in vast proportions.

THE SUGGESTION

For the Appointment of a Joint Commission

To Settle the Venezuela Question Favored by Sir Henry H. F. Wier.

A Mistake to Waste Time in Wrangling—An Immediate Agreement Should Be Reached. The Whole of the Liberal Party Shares the Same Views.

LONDON, Feb. 22.—Right Hon. Sir Henry Hartley Fowler, some time president of the local government board and secretary for India, has informed the Daily News that he strongly favors the plan for the appointment of a joint committee to settle the Venezuelan question. It would be, he says, a great mistake to waste time in wrangling. The details are insignificant in comparison with the supreme importance of an immediate agreement on a difficulty, which left unsettled, might suddenly assume a serious aspect.

The Daily News declares that the whole liberal party shares the views expressed by Sir Henry.

The Chronicle Saturday says it learns that matters have reached a less hopeful stage than is assumed in some quarters and expressed doubt that Great Britain will take any decisive action until the American high commission shall have reported.

The standard says it is understood that Sir Richard Webster, the attorney general, has been reviving the British case prepared by Sir Fred Polack, corps professor of jurisprudence at Oxford university. The case, so prepared and revised will be issued next week. The paper adds that it believes that the government regards the case as historically unassailable, although in its diplomatic aspect, it is not free from confusion.

In an editorial the Standard condemns those who advocate hasty and immediate settlement of the question. It urges that it is desirable to thoroughly master its difficulties and to trust to time and the good sense of the two nations for an amicable settlement.

THE EXPLOSION.

Railway Company Violated the Regulations For Handling Dynamite.

JOHANNESBURG, Transvaal, Feb. 22.—The government of the republic has granted 25,000 pounds sterling to the fund for the aid of the sufferers. The Netherlands railway has subscribed 10,000 pounds sterling, and the dynamite company 5,000 pounds sterling. The total fund now approaches 100,000 pounds sterling.

It has been proved that the government's and the companies' regulations for the handling of dynamite were broken in several respects. The cars contained 55 tons of the explosive and 90 cases of detonators. The dynamite company's magazine, which is near the scene of the explosion, contained 400 tons of the explosive. A bolt that had been made red hot by the explosion fell into the magazine, dropping into a bucket of water. The government meditates ordering the company remove its magazine ten miles from the town.

THE VULCAN MINE.

Thirteen Victims of the Gas Explosion Taken Out—Destitute Families to Be Looked After.

NEWCASTLE, Col., Feb. 22.—Thirteen bodies have been taken from the Vulcan mine, the last being that of Chris Bruuger, found in the left entry at 1:30 o'clock Friday morning. Though good progress is made at clearing away the debris, the disastrous effects of the explosion are more marked as the workmen make their way into the entries.

A force of men was set to work Friday to construct a fan house in order that the right entry may be cleared of gas. A relief committee has been appointed to look after the destitute families and subscriptions have already begun to come in. No further rescue of bodies can be accomplished until the fan houses are rebuilt and the mine surely cleared of the dangerous gas.

Ex-Alderman Adjudged Insane.

CHICAGO, Feb. 22.—Ex-Alderman Salo W. Roth, who, as secretary of two building and loan associations, is responsible for a shortage of $3,000 in the funds, was adjudged insane Friday by a jury in the county court, and ordered by the judge committed to the asylum at Wauwatosa, Wis. This judicial disposition of the case precludes a criminal prosecution for the defalcations, but the association will endeavor to recover the loss from the estate, which is estimated at less than $50,000. The evidence showed that Roth had been suffering from melancholia more than three years.

Expelled From His Office.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 22.—Simon Burns, president of the Window Glass Workers' association, was expelled from that position by Local Assembly No. 300 Friday night, under charges of incompetency, refusal to obey the instructions of the organization and misrepresenting the wage demand of the workers at the last conference. Daniel Winters was selected as president pro tem.
